

July 15, 2020

All of us at Axonis were deeply saddened to hear of Kerry Murphy's sudden passing. Our hearts go out to Kerry's extended family and friends. You can read about his life and legacy in his obituary:

<https://www.legacy.com/obituaries/eastbaytimes/obituary.aspx?n=kerry-murphy&pid=196474200>

Kerry meant a lot to Axonis. He helped us launch the company with our Series Seed. His boundless energy and enthusiasm for our endeavor was contagious. His love for Axonis grew as he got to know the mission, the science, and the people. Kerry wanted to make a difference to the lives of people suffering from spinal cord injury and other nervous system diseases and disorders. For him, it was more than just an investment. He wanted our success and impact on human lives to be part of his legacy — something he could help nurture and guide. The Axonis family will dearly miss him. His spirit will always be a part of our endeavor.

Corey, Joanna, Mark, Bob, Pat, Os and Lisa